Creating The First WSU Global Campus Mace

When I set out to establish a ceremonial mace for Washington State University’s Global Campus, I recognized the importance of honoring this long-standing academic tradition, and I also saw an opportunity to create something deeply meaningful and unique to our community. The mace—a ceremonial staff carried during formal academic events like commencement—represents the authority and dignity of the institution, serving as a powerful symbol of scholarship, leadership, and unity

Working closely with a design company and administrators within the WSU system, we helped guide the vision from concept to reality. Every element was carefully considered, from the materials and shape to the symbols and inscriptions. The design reflects both the heritage of WSU and the forward-thinking, resilient spirit of our Global Campus students, who often pursue their degrees while balancing work, family, and personal challenges.

For WSU Global Campus, the mace is more than tradition, it’s a testament to the journeys of students from all walks of life and all corners of the world, who come together in pursuit of knowledge. It’s a symbol of the digital age meeting academic heritage, a physical representation of pride, perseverance, and community.

Being part of this project has been an incredible honor. It allowed me to contribute to a legacy that will be carried forward at every commencement, representing not just our graduates, but the heart and history of our institution. Go Cougs!

WSU ALMA MATER

Washington, my Washington, the Crimson and the Gray!

'Tis the songs of memory that we sing today.

When the sad hours come to you, and sorrows 'round you play,

Just sing the songs of Washington, the Crimson and the Gray,

Just sing the songs of Washington, the Crimson and the Gray.
